

I am in opposition to allowing the big media moguls to purchase and control an increasing amount of radio and television stations thus eliminating diverse programming and news from independents. The quality of programming has already suffered on this attempt to control the public airways.